'Tis morn ! with hate's exulting smile
 Dark Madog views the blazing pile,—
 Till, of oak and massy stone,
 Dust and ash remain alone ;
 Pillar, column—all are gone !
 Years roll'd away—as years may roll—
 O'er those who feel not Time's control :
 Forgetful of that fatal strife,
 Still Madog liv'd a lawless life ;—
 Man was his prey—at length, though late,
 The ruthless robber met his fate :
 None bade the flower above him bloom,
 No sculptur'd stone adorn'd his tomb,
 No friendly heart above his sigh'd—
 Unhonour'd and unwept he died.

GWYNEDDIGION SOCIETY.—It will be seen by an advertisement on the wrapper of this Number, that this Society has selected “ The Fall of Llywelyn, last Prince of Wales,” as the subject of the Prize Poem for the present year. The candidates are to transmit their effusions to the Secretary before the first of next August ; and the Medal will be awarded to the successful competitor on the second day of the Eisteddfod at Carnarvon. * * *

WELSH DISPENSARY.—An advertisement, accompanying this Number, announces a Meeting to take place, on Saturday the 5th inst., of the Members of this laudable Institution, of which an account was given in the former volume. It is to be hoped, for the sake of Wales, and for the sake of humanity, that the Meeting will experience the encouragement it so well deserves. The cause is that of charity and benevolence, and is, therefore, one, in which none can say, that they are not in some degree interested. Whatever indifference or whatever apathy may have been evinced on other occasions, there can be no excuse here : it is the relief of disease and of infirmity, to which we are invited, and who is there, having it in his power to afford the relief, that will refuse to obey the call ? The following letter on the subject explains briefly and explicitly the objects and advantages of the Institution.
